comments had been sought on the recommendations of the Commission for Agricultural Costs and Prices (CACP) has conveyed its views on the appropriate level of minimum support prices of mustard for the 1986-87 crop. It would not be appropriate to comment on the newspaper report that the support price suggested by the Government of Punjab is much higher than that recommended by the CACP as the Commission's report in this regard is still confidential.

(b) No, Sir. A number of initiatives taken by the Government for raising production and attaining self-sufficiency in oilseeds have yielded positive results. These efforts include investments on Research and Development and the National Dairy Development Board's Project for production and marketing of edible oils and oilseeds with the aid of funds generated from the sale of gift oil received through CLUSA and CIDA. Thus, for instance a number of improved varieties of groundnut rapeseed - mustard, linseed, sesomum and sunflower seed, capable of boosting oilseeds production substantially, have been developed. As a result, between 1980-81 and 1984-85 the average yield of the major cultivated oilseed increased from 532 to 684 kgs per hectare and total production from 93.7 to 129.5 lakh tonnes.

(c) It is a continuing policy of the Government to fix procurement/support prices for important agricultural commodities including wheat, rice, sugarcane and cotton, at remunerative levels so as to encourage farmers to increase production consistent with an efficient farming system.
